Leadership Coach Training—Testimonials

From Tim B -

"Leadership Coach Training helped me become a better leader, husband, and father. Through the process I learned that I didn't actively listen well to others, so I wasn't able to communicate with them in the most meaningful way. I discovered how to ask good questions that help uncover positive revelations and create progress and goodwill in business and personal relationships."

From Jim M -

"It [Leadership Coach Training] has given me a whole new approach to relationships. I used to think I had to have all the answers. There is a lot of pressure in that. Now I know how to ask powerful questions that help others to discover their own solutions. I believe in people again and actively search for ways and opportunities to coach them."

From Dennis W -

"Leadership Coach Training has shown me the value of investing in another man's life, and how simple it is to do. Moving from the transactional to the relational has energized my life. I have purpose, direction, and new skills to develop deeper relationships with my wife, kids, peers, and whomever God puts in my path."

From Dusty C -

"Leadership Coach Training has helped me to see people as God sees them. In relationships with others, I have learned skills to help draw out the deep water of their soul, to be more of who God wants them to be. As a result, I am a better husband, friend, leader, and follower of Christ."

From John K -

"Leadership Coach Training has taught me how to do for one that which I wish I could do for many. I desire to be the spiritual leader of my family and to develop intentional spiritual friendships. My purpose is to be the man God called me to be by creating the environment where each person I coach can fulfil their God-given potential."
